

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

26.06.2024

New Course, Same Passion – A Fresh Start at SAY Carbon Yachts GmbH

SAY Carbon Yachts GmbH has successfully relaunched under new ownership after a challenging period and insolvency. With new leadership and a fresh breeze in its sails, long-term stability and security can now be ensured. The company looks forward to a promising future and is excited to continue its tradition of innovation and excellence.

"Our priority remains to produce high-quality yachts and provide first-class service that our customers can rely on." SAY CARBON YACHTS

The passion for high-quality yacht manufacturing and the commitment to innovation were the driving forces behind this relaunch. The company aims to strengthen its position as a leading provider of carbon fiber yachts and to continue growing.

The experienced core team will remain with the company, and Germany will continue to be the location of SAY Carbon Yachts. This continuity allows the company to maintain and further improve the high quality and precision for which SAY Carbon Yachts is known.

With renewed energy and a clear vision, the team looks forward to exploring new paths and celebrating new successes, - such as the launch of new models.

The planned expansion of the product range will enable SAY Carbon Yachts to better meet the individual wishes and needs of their customers, and the company is excited to present new, innovative models in the near future.
